Students rule the kitchen in Khana Khazana Students have taken up new skills in the kitchen adopting healthy cooking habits while helping their parents in the household chores. Our students, Chetna and Akanksha of Std 8 have taken the lead in dishing out easily made yet mouth watering and delicious dishes while maintaining the safety standards against burning, cutting and general mess in the kitchen. Children get the opportunity to implement the nutritional guidelines taught in science; and to practice basic math skills such as counting, weighing, measuring and tracking time. And there's more. They enhance their social skills as well when they work together and communicate in the kitchen, be it with friends or parents.
